OPINION OF CHIEF-JUSTICE WAITE IN AN EQUITY CASE .- At the recent session of the United States court in this city the case of Carter vs. Dickinson and others, was argued and submitted, Chief-Justice Wafte has just written out and sent to the clerk of the of our most prominent citizens were scatcourt here the following opinion:

Robert O. Carter vs. William H. Dickinson, Jane Dickinson and Henry B. Lewis: In equity-I find as follows:

1. That on the 2d December, 1852, the defendant, William H. Dickinson, executed to the plaintiff his bond for the payment of $1,487.95 January 1, 1855, with interest from January 1, 1853, at the rate of four per cent, per annum.

2. I do not find from the evidence submit- their presence. ted that this bond was executed by the other defendants.

3. The bond has been lost,

4. Six hundred dollars, and no more, have been paid thereon. It is not shown at what time this payment was made. Let it be credited as of the date of the maturity of the 5. The "thoroughfare," so called, is a part of the Rappahannock river, which bounds the property conveyed. Goat Island was not included in the conveyance.

The clerk will compute the amount due upon the bond, crediting the above payment, and a decree entered against William H. Dickinson for the payment of the amount due, upon the execution to him by the plaintiff of a bond in the penal sum of three thousand dollars, with security to indemnify him, the said William H. Dickinson, and save him harmless of and from all costs, liabilities, and expenses, in case it shall at any time appear that said plaintiff was not, at the time of the rendition of the decree, the owner of said lost bond, and entitled to eventh and Twenty-eighth have and recover the amount due thereon; and also conditioned, to account to said Dickinson and restore to him any moneys paid tions, "dreams," and false theories of the upon said bond, and not hereby ordered to Middle Ages down to the light and advancebe credited, in case, upon the recovery there- ment of the present day. CAPTURE OF AN ALLEGED FORGER AND SWINDLER.—One day last week William H. Meyers offered at the counter of Robert T. Martin, in Washington city, a check for $38, purporting to be signed by Harrison Adrien, United States pension agent at Baltimore, He said he could not wait then to get the money, but desired it to be forwarded to his address in this city, where he was suddenly called on urgent business. Soon after Myers went out it was discovered that the check was a forgery; but thinking to secure his immediate capture, Martin wrote to District Attorney Worthington to have him arrested when he should call for the registered letter containing the $38. They then wrote to Meyers notifying him that the registered letter bad been forwarded, and mailed the Meyers was at the post-office on Saturday, received his letters and money, and disappeared. A few minutes afterwards Major Worthington got his letter, and hurried to seize his man, but of course did not find him. The police and detectives were informed, and watched the avenues of escape from the city without avail.

Yesterday morning, unconscious that the law's machinery had been directed against him, he emerged from a den of iniquity, and called at the post-office. The clerk who had delivered the registered letter on Saturday recognized him, and notified Marshal Nye. Though protesting he was not the man, Meyers was taken before Commissioner Pleasants, and fully identified by two postoffice clerks, and by a hatter he has lately defrauded of a new hat, under pretence of being a Mason in distress. Besides this proof, the name William H. Meyers was found written in the old and the new hat. The Commissioner issued subpænas for witnesses in Baltimore and Washington and postponed the hearing until Friday. Meyers was committed to juil in default of bail to appear for examination. This is the same person that imposed upon a ship captain at this port a few weeks ago by pretending to be a United States custom-house detective.

Commencement of Richmond College. | Plan for a Primary Election Adopted | the polling clerks will at the same time poll | FINAL CELEBRATION OF THE PHILOLOGIAN

Assembly Hall was filled last evening with one of Richmond's best audiences. The grave theologian, the staid matron, the belle and the beau, the chivalry and the beauty of our fair city were all there to honor the occasion and show their appreciation of the efforts of the young gentlemen of the "Philologian Society" of Richmond College as they gathered for their final celebration. As the company were assembling Kess-nich's band discoursed some very sweet music, and a strain of pleasant chit-chat ran through the hall. This old society has been in a very flourishing condition during the past session, and its many friends seemed highly gratified at the large and appreciative audience which greeted them last night.

The marshals of the occasion acquitted themselves skilfully, and gracefully in conducting all comers to seats, and a number tered through the audience. The president (Mr. R. H. Rawles) introduced Rev. Dr. H. A. Tupper, who opened the exercises with an appropriate prayer. Mr. H. L. He then showed that life is real in its duties, its possibilities, its issues, and its influences.

He insisted that life may be made real : that one should resist the first tendency to evil, and that the true man should be willing to plod for success.

He gave a vivid contrast between the 'genius" who flits through college and the earnest worker who lays deep and strong the foundations of future usefulness and success. He urged that we should see to our influence-that we should dare the world's opposition and always do rightbe sure you are right and then go ahead."

At a meeting of the City Conservative sioner. Committee, held at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce last night, the following plan for a primary election was adopted: 1. Primary elections shall be held by the Conservative party of the city of Richmond

- days prior to each general election for candidates in nomination for municipal or State offices, said primary elections shall determine the choice of the Conservative party of the city, to be voted for at the ensuing general election. The votes cast in the primary election shall be for the candidates for office, and it shall be the duty of the City Central Conservative Committee to appoint the delegates to the Nominating Convention, instructed to vote for the candidate receiv ing the highest number of votes in each ward, provided, however, that the candidate himself, or his friends and adherents, be allowed to nominate to the City Committee delegates to be thus appointed.

2. Primary elections shall be conducted under the control and management of the City Central Conservative Committee, subject to the rules and regulations berein adopted, together with any amendments hereafter added thereto.

3. Three well-known Conservative citizens of integrity and intelligence from each ward shall be selected by the City Central their services "voluntarily" as commissioners on the day of election at the voting-place in their several wards.

4. Primary elections shall be held at one voting place in each ward of the city. 5. Ward commissioners shall conduct the election in their several wards.

The committee will thereupon announce the names of said parties for such office as they may offer in a general advertisement kept open for that purpose and published in all the Conservative papers in the city of Richmond. The said parties shall pay at the same time the assessment made on such office as he may propose to become a candidate for. Said assessment shall be graded in accordance with the importance of the office, and the payment of said assessment shall entitle him to all the privileges, and shall release said candidate from further tax for conducting said primary election.

9. The City Central Conservative Committee shall appoint a sufficient number of competent clerks for each ward (at least three) for polling the votes as they are called, one to record the name of the voter, and one clerk who shall have the registration-books of each precinct of the ward in charge, whose duty it shall be to inform the commissioner who receives the votes if the voter offering to turn within the reach of all, in order that Knights Templar, held last night, the followvote is a registered voter in the ward. Excursions, Erc .- Although there are some discomforts incident to the heated term, yet the numerous excursions and picnies which are announced to take place at this season of the year afford many occasions for rest and recreation without loss of time from business. There is no trip, however, either to the mountains or elsewhere, which promises to bring more pleasure and enjoyment than that advertised this morning by Mr. L. B. Tatum, agent of the James River Steamboat Company.

On Saturday evening at 8 o'clock the fine steamer Eliza Hancox will leave her wharf at this city for Old Point, Norfolk, etc. Upon the arrival of the Hancox at Old Point those passengers who have left this city will be invited on board the John Sylvester, and will proceed on an excursion, free of charge, to the capes of Virginia. The trip is one of the most attractive ever offered by this enterprising line, and it will doubtless be well patronized. Mr. Tatum has put the price of the round-trip tickets to Old Point and refreshed and reinvigorated for the business of the coming week. The Hancox will on her return arrive in Richmond about 9 o'clock Sunday night.

During the commencement exercises at Randolph Macon the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad Company will run an extra train to Ashland, leaving Broad-street depôt this morning and to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. Returning will leave Ashland each night at 11 o'clock. The regular accommodation train on the 24th and 25th instants will be run between Ashland and Richmond only.
Company G, of the First Virginia regiment, propose to have an excursion to West Point on Wednesday next. Kessuich's band has been engaged for the occasion. The affair will doubtless be highly enjoyable. The first grand family excursion and picnic to West Point will take place to morrow under the direction of Mr. J. H. Coghill and be voted for. The recording clerk shall as the city. COMMERCIAL .- Yesterday the wharves of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company presented an appearance of unusually brisk business. Eight schooners and a bark were loading there with timber, coal, walnut logs. lumber, staves, &c. The noise and confu sion of sailors, stevedores, and laborers, talking and running hither and thither, seemed like a waste of time and labor; but under the experienced control of Mr. L loading progressed with great rapidity. The vessels at these wharves yesterday re presented more tonnage than all the other craft now in port. Several cargoes of freight remain upon the wharf awaiting shipment

GOOD SAMARITANS .- The delegates from the Grand Lodge, No. 1, of Good Samaritans, have returned to this city from Charlottes ville, where the semi-annual session was held and much business transacted. The reports of the grand officers show the Order to be in a prosperous condition. Under the jurisdiction of the Supreme Grand Lodge No. 1, several applications for charters were received and granted. The Order, under the jurisdiction of the Supreme Grand Lodge, No. 1, has eleven degrees. The nextsession will be held in this city on the third Wednesday in September. In the meantime, the lodges here will make the necessary preparations to entertain the visiting dele gates, etc.
